

Refinery development benefits for the surrounding community

Ultramar is a major corporation in the Québec City region that has succeeded in establishing a relationship of trust and confidence with all its community's partners. Deeply involved in community development, the refinery employs more than 450 permanent employees. Ultramar always performs a procurement study of local and regional suppliers—70% of goods and services are supplied from the immediate Québec City region—and hires the majority of its workers from this area as well.
